

Lord of All

Take my hand and lead me – for I may get lost and fall behind on my own.

Show me the way to patience – somewhere
along the way I stumbled from the path.

Teach me to trust again – I allowed someone
along the line to rob me of mine.

Help me to be flexible – often I forget that there are many ways other than my own.

Allow me to make mistakes – for I am only human and bound to slip once in a while.

Pick me up when I am weary – sometimes I can't carry my cross all alone.

Teach me the art of forgiveness – sometimes I let
my anger and bitterness blind me.

Renew me with your strength – occasionally I forget that tomorrow I may begin again.

Show me how to love others, as you do, and to receive love as freely as I give it –
You are the world's only hope.
